

Miller Environmental Group now offers two additional services to keep clients safe & compliant, 24/7

CALVERTON, NY: June 2021 – Miller Environmental Group Inc. (“MEG”) has partnered with two of the premier leaders in environmental training and compliance to further enhance the one-stop list of solutions offered to their clients.

“Every day we hear clients asking for easier resources to keep their team trained, safe and better prepared for tomorrow,” said Jeff Dutzer, MEG’s Chief Commercial Officer. “Leaders are also always looking for simple solutions to ensure their business is compliant and prepared for an unannounced inspection, or the unexpected.”

This was part of the initiative which drove Dutzer to seek out a team which could support their client’s needs but would not require MEG to staff a new line of business, “We knew there were experts in this field with decades of experience. We didn’t want to re-create the wheel, we just wanted to make it easy for our clients to get direct access to these experts. And we found two great partnerships with U.S. Compliance and Source Intelligence,” shared Dutzer.

“We never want to say ‘no’ to a client,” says Jerry Coogan, MEG’s Chief Operations Officer, “we want clients to make one call to our team and know we are ready to help them, whether it’s Incident Command or DOT HAZMAT training – we’re ready. MEG has provided training to our team internally and for clients, but with this expansion of our partnership means our services are limitless.”

NEW SERVICES

U.S. Compliance has been providing EHS Compliance Training and Environmental Permitting to clients for over 30 years and will now support MEG clients with EHS Compliance as a Service (CaaS) Program. CaaS delivers comprehensive OSHA and environmental compliance consulting solutions throughout North America as a monthly “always on” subscription service with an affordable, predictable monthly fee.

Source Intelligence will provide clients with a dedicated or shared platform for easy to access M/SDS (Safety Data Sheets) 24/7. Source Intelligence is the leading provider of Supply Chain Compliance and Transparency Solutions and has been automating supply chain tracing and data collection for over a decade. Source Intelligence uses AI and machine learning technology to gather and validate supply chain data for over 500,000 companies for due diligence, regulatory compliance, risk management, and ESG initiatives.

Jeff Dutzer shared his philosophy on these relationships, “Expanding these services in our line-up shows clients how dedicated we are to their success; if they’re safe, compliant, and ready for another day of hard work – so are we!”
